

BOYS' EDUCATION NT

May 2007

Working with Boys, Building Fine Men Conference

Stories of Success

4 – 6 July 2007

The 5th Biennial Working with Boys, Building Fine Men Conference at the University of Newcastle is recognised as a 'must attend' event on the Boys' Education calendar.

For more information visit the website: www.pco.com.au/boys2007

EXPLORE NT

Interested schools will be able to access complete Professional Learning modules in the near future on EXPLORE NT.

Why Boys' Ed? Boys and Resilience, Boys' Innovation and Thinking and Boys and Literacy Professional Learning Modules are the result of the work of various members of the Middle Years of Schooling Team. The aim of each module is to provide teachers with the information, both theoretical and practical, to start the conversations about issues facing NT boys at school and in society generally.

Each module contains:

- A PowerPoint with accompanying notes
- A PD Overview listing activities, resources and time guidelines
- Resources – readings, activities (PD and classroom)
- Plenty of time for collegial sharing
- Links to obtain resources not included in the module.

Modules can be presented to staff in 90 minutes, alternatively teachers can work through modules individually however it is important not to underestimate the value of collegial discussion and sharing.

Contact Details

Jacintha Francis

Middle Years of Schooling Team

Teaching, Learning & Standards

Phone: 8999 4292 Fax: 8999 4200

Email: jacintha.francis@nt.gov.au